

Get Rich Distributor Schemes Usually Fraud

Postal Inspectors probing business opportunity schemes which could violate the mail fraud laws are reporting an increase in the number of companies selling pyramid-type distributorships to small investors, Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson said today.

He warned that "fraudulent multi-level distributorships can hurt many thousands of investors. In many ways they are like a chain letter, except the stakes are much higher."

"In a typical illegal pyramid scheme, families with savings of from $2,000 to $10,000 are lured into buying a distributorship for a 'fabulous new product' which can bring them five and six-figure incomes.

"But to achieve success," Mr. Watson adds, "the small investor is told he must recruit sub-distributors or retailers."

"And, once the victim is trapped, he rarely complains. Too often the new distributor can only recoup his investment by recruiting others into the scheme."

The pyramid-type of distributorship is one of three major types of business opportunity schemes which can be in violation of mail fraud laws, according to Watson. The others usually involve misrepresentations in selling vending machine routes and franchises for marketing goods or services.

Those using the mails, directly or indirectly, to further a fraudulent scheme are subject to the mail fraud statutes, and penalties of up to 5 years in prison and fines of $1,000 for each count. At the present time 189 questionable schemes are under investigation.

Henry B. Montague, Chief Postal Inspector, said the recent conviction of the National Marketing Association's officers indicates that the penalties can also be severe for promoters who defraud. The president of this Tulsa, Okla., firm which fleeced some 400 investors of more than $400,000, was sentenced to ten years in prison.

In the National Marketing case, as in most pyramid schemes, selling distributorships is more important than selling the product. At lavish free dinners investors were told how they could earn more than $15,000 a year as "Terrific" cleaning solvent distributors.

The victims were reassured by claims that their investment was secured with inventory at a commercial warehouse, and they received impressive looking, but phony, warehouse receipts.

Then, when a person had invested, he was invited to share in the growth of the company by inviting others to the free steak dinners which also featured impressive speakers, such as a professor of marketing from a Texas University, and a "beauty queen" as hostess.

The "Terrific Success Plan" provided the distributor with not only a percentage of his recruit's investments, but also an override on all of their cleaning solution sales.

The 400 victims included a carpenter, with no sales experience, who mortgaged his furniture to invest $1,200; a couple in their twenties who took $23,000 from a trust fund, and a railroad worker buying the Tulsa distributorship for $7,200.

Inspectors have found that the typical "come-on" in a vending machine swindle is an ad in the help-wanted columns seeking men or women to service coin-operated machines on either a full or part time basis.

Those answering the ad are then approached by high-pressure salesmen who induce them to purchase vending units by falsely claiming they can earn big profits. Salesmen often promise that a trained factory representative will arrange suitable locations. Locations, if obtained, are generally the poorest sort and the investor discovers the company did not pay the applicable license fees. Sometimes flimsy vending machines are sold at exorbitant prices.

In a recent case, where the promoter received a three-year sentence, the victims were paying $100 for hot-nut vending units that cost the promoter $17.

The $100 seemed small to the investor. He was promised profits of from $2,000 to $4,275 per machine, depending upon location.

However, none of the vending machine operators made the promised profits, and it was found the victims lost about $350,000 on these machines and the supplies.

The success of the legitimate franchising industry has also meant new opportunities for the swindler.

Recently small town contractors, cement masons and plumbers were given a chance to share in the swimming pool construction boom by becoming franchised dealers for corporations with such glamorous names as Bermuda Pools, Cinderella Pool Corp., and Town and Country Pools. The three inter-related Colorado corporations, operated by 11 promoters, lured small contractors to Denver by falsely promising an expense-paid trip. There, the building tradesman was told he has a competitor for the swimming pool franchise in his area; but because his rival lacks construction experience, he can get the franchise if he signs Christmas Eve in Vietnam can be a lonely time. Christmas Eve in Germany can be lonely, too. As a matter of fact, Christmas Eve anywhere except home can be very bleak and forlorn.

Many servicemen unable to spend Christmas with their families will find a bit of warmth during those lonely hours thanks to the American Red Cross and its "Voices from Home" program.

The free tape recordings can be made by a serviceman's family and sent to wherever he is stationed. From now until Dec. 15, taping facilities are available at the Lake County Red Cross Office.

Grade School Seeks Okay For $1.65 Million Issue

Residents of the Antioch Grade School District No. 34 will be asked Saturday to approve a $1,675,000 bond issue to build a new upper grade school.

The reason for the move at this time, according to school board, is that present school buildings are too small to house the increased enrollment.

More grade school children are enrolled in the Antioch District now than at any time in the community's history.

Normal capacity of the present schools is 1,025 while present enrollment has soared to 1,302.

Estimated cost to the taxpayers of the district would be 32 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation.

This is based on an estimated 4 per cent rate of interest on the bonds to be sold and an average increase in assessed valuation.

The Antioch Grade School tax rate is presently $1.755 which compares favorably with that of surrounding districts.

Gavin presently has $2,091; Lake Villa $1,681; Grayslake $1,645; Libertyville $2,237; Mundelein $1,708 and Woodland $1,876. These rates, however, do not reflect recent tax increases.

Based on the increase of 32 cents of each $100 valuation a home assessed at $7,700 would

Pencil Gimmick Is Back

The old pencil-peddling gimmick is back. A company in New York is offering to sell its "errors" to local firms. The letter it is sending reads, in part as follows:

"Recently, we received an order for pencils from a firm similar in name to yours. In error, we pulled your name and address from our directory file and ran an order of 576 printed wood pencils."

This letter further states the price of these pencils at 5c each, and the offer includes "a free Swiss calendar watch for your cooperation."

Don't be fooled. A company wouldn't happen to make so many errors involving 576 pencils each time. Furthermore, the watch is not "free" because a purchase must be made to obtain it.

Judging from the number of firms who have already forwarded the company's literature to Better Business Bureau-Chicago, the pencil company's biggest "error" is in thinking that firms will fall for it.

Several years ago the Federal Trade Commission issued an order against another New York company prohibiting such deception in the sale of ball point pens. The FTC has been apprised of this latest operation.

Christmas Seal Drive Started

With the approach of the Christmas season, there comes the opportunity to impart holiday cheer with year-round health protection.

"said Clare Zimmerman of the Lake County Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

Zimmerman said he was referring to the annual Christmas Seal Campaign which is now under way in Lake County.

Zimmerman said the association's goal this year is $100,000 which actually is a modest sum when one considers the big job this organization does throughout the year in combating tuberculosis and respiratory diseases.

Not only does the association work for the eradication of TB, the nation's number one infectious disease killer, but it is actively engaged in the battle against emphysema, air pollution, asthma and other respiratory illnesses.

In addition to supporting research and medical education, Christmas Seal dollars work 365 days each year in Lake County and its major communities on such programs as Tuberculosis testing in our County schools, X-raying in the County with our Mobile Unit, and sending out health education material concerning not only tuberculosis but also air pollution and other respiratory diseases.

And the Lotus School at Grass Lake Road, Antioch, was broken into.

In addition to the meat from the freezer, the burglars had taken fishing poles and hand-warmers which were to be given out as prizes.

The Lotus School was broken into after it was closed last Friday and $5 was taken.

School officials said a window was broken on the first floor to gain entry to the building.

EDITORIAL Day Of Decision

Saturday is another day of decision for residents of Antioch School District #34.

On that day they will decide whether or not to hike their own taxes.

They are the only ones who can do it.

The grade school board is asking for approval of a $1.65 million bond issue to put up a new school for the upper grades — those from 6 through 8.

And the need is graphically pointed out by the fact that the board has had to go outside of the present schools to rent property for the kindergartners and the first graders.

The grade school tax rate is presently $1.755, not out of line with surrounding areas and lower in most cases when you take into consideration that several of the areas have recently approved bond issues and the new rate has not been figured.

At the present time there are 1,302 students attending the Antioch grade schools that were fashioned for a maximum of 1,025 students.

We are growing by leaps and bounds in this area and the schools have to keep pace if we are to create a good climate for industrial growth that will bolster our tax base and help in providing the necessary things for a dynamic area that Antioch can be a part of.

The cost to the taxpayer for the new school will amount to about 32 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation.

So at the rate of $10,000 for assessed valuation the hike will be $32 over the year.

If you break it down by the week you will find that you are spending only 61 cents for educational advantage for your children.

In its final analysis the question is whether or not the residents of Antioch want good, solid educational advantages for their children.

We believe that they do.

That is why we wholeheartedly support the bond issue on Saturday.

Drive Safely

In 1967 some 53,100 persons died in traffic accidents on the nation's highways.

Drinking has proved to be a factor in at least half of all the fatal motor vehicle accidents each year.

In fact, one state study reveals that three-fourths of the drivers killed in single-vehicle accidents during a five-year period had been drinking.

Excessive speed is another killer.

Statistics show that about three out of 10 of the fatal accidents in 1967 involved vehicles exceeding the speed limit or going to fast for conditions.

Speed usually accomplishes very little. One test showed that in a 1,000 mile drive the motorist who took chances and exceeded the speed limit only arrived at his destination 31 minutes earlier than the motorist who took his time and obeyed the rules.

Besides the death toll, traffic accidents injured another 1,900,000 persons across the country and accidents cost approximately $10,700,000,000.

As John Edgar Hoover, of the FBI puts it "much of the highway carnage which haunts every home, community and state is the fault of irresponsible and careless drivers."

Hoover advocates realistic enforcement of traffic regulations and proper punishment of guilty violators, particularly where drunken driving and excessive speed are concerned.

Courthouse Notebook

By Lou Durkin

Recent experiments with weighted votes for county board members in an effort to achieve "one man, one vote" equality on the board open the way to some interesting developments.

First of all, weighted voting, in which each member of the County Board would cast a vote based on the population in his township, would mean the elimination of the assistant supervisor whose only role is as a member of the Board of Supervisors.

This would mean a reduction in board membership from 37 to 18; the number of townships in the county under the present alignment.

Reducing the number of board members by half would reduce the cost of county government, a happy circumstance that would be quickly corrected by the surviving board members.

The number of county board committees could be reduced because there would be fewer chairmanships to pass around to deserving board members and besides the supervisors could not be expected to double up on several committees.

The elimination of assistant supervisors could mean a change in board leadership since the Supervisors of General Assistance would not be dependent on loyalty on the part of their townsmen.

Once the board is reduced to 18 members it shouldn't be too difficult to program the county's growing battery of data processing equipment so that each supervisor's position on any question coming before the board could be anticipated.

This could eliminate the need for county-board meetings since the computers would already have decisions tabulated.

There is one possible hangup on this subject. Suppose, as sometimes happens, the argument of a non-establishment member are more intelligent and more logical than those of an establishment member?

Will the machine support the wiser argument or can the computer be programmed to insure the proper voting outcome regardless of the merits of the arguments?

It would appear that Chief Deputy Sheriff James (Jake) Repp could be earning the support of Sheriff Harold Scheskie in the contest for Sheriff in the June 1970 primary despite the probability that Coroner Orville Clavey will be in the running.

In the past few weeks Repp's name has been appearing more and more frequently in connection with gambling raids and other activities of the Sheriff's office.

This was a common procedure in the days when the Sheriff and Chief Deputy would swap hats every four years.

The Chief Deputy would get the publicity during his time out of office so his name would be familiar to the voters' come election time and the sheriff went into virtual seclusion as far as publicity was concerned.

Of course the move of Repp into the publicity spotlight could be to take some of the heat off Sheriff Scheskie since he has been involved in some news stories concerning personnel practices which have not shown him in the best light.

Deputy Stanley Schabowicz, who served as Administrative Assistant under Sheriff Charles Larson, has apparently escaped from Scheskie's doghouse.

Schabowicz was one of those who smarted under Scheskie's personnel policies because he was stripped of his title and installed as jailer, despite physical handicaps which could have made this assignment dangerous.

Now, however, Schabowicz has been "pardoned" and has been assigned as a bailiff freeing him from the close supervision of the Sheriff.

Overtures made to Paul Serdar, Wadsworth mink rancher and operator of Harriet's Imperial Furs salon in Wadsworth, indicate that he may return to the chairmanship of the Illinois Racing Commission, a post he held under Gov. William G. Stratton.

Serdar was more than somewhat controversial during his eight year term, but those associated with the breeding industry recall that racing enjoyed its finest hours under his stewardship.

Illinois was becoming a leading horse breeding state during the Stratton administration, but the track operators, who have virtually taken control of racing away from the present commission, cut purses for Illinois-bred horses and the industry has waned almost to the point of extinction in the state.

Serdar's support of former Gov. Stratton in the primaries last spring could militate against his getting the appointment, but then Gov.-elect Richard Ogilvie has appointed former House Speaker John Lewis to a key cabinet post.

Lake County has another cluster on its trophy as the safest place in the state to kill somebody and escape punishment.

Latest triumph of blood letting over justice occurred last week when Richard Ashby, of Wauconda, was acquitted of murdering his wife.

Not all the blame can be laid to the State's Attorney's prosecution of the case because most observers around the courthouse felt the evidence supported the murder charge.

The jurors, who are members of the public, must share in the onus of the acquittal.

Maybe too many Lake County jurors are inclined to sympathy for the defendant reasoning that "There, but for the grace of God, go I."

Deputies Attend Courses

Lake County Chief Deputy James Repp is attending a three week law enforcement management course at Northwestern University. The course, which covers such subjects as office management procedures, scheduling, forms, etc., began Dec. 2, and ends Dec. 20.

Sheriff Harold Schleske pointed out this is only one of many such courses, seminars and conferences attended by deputies each year. He said six men just completed a one-week course at the Northern Illinois Crime Laboratory in Deerfield on the breathalyzer, and two deputies finished a traffic law course which ran two weeks at the Northwest Traffic Institute.

The Sheriff praised his men for the interest they have shown in attending the various programs available to law enforcement officers in this area. Schleske said much of the credit goes to those men who participated in week-end seminars on their own time.

All new men on the department are required to attend a one month school at the Police Training Institute in Champaign, which is affiliated with the University of Illinois.

Just recently, 17 deputies from Lake County attended a conference sponsored by the Citizens Traffic Safety Board at Highland Park.

Schleske says the many instructional programs available make it possible for deputies to keep up to date on the latest procedures, equipment, and laws thus contributing to a truly professional department.

Need coupled with admission to a college in Illinois are the only requirements. Grants are available for full-time, undergraduate study in amounts up to $1,200.00.

The Grant, however, may be used only for tuition and mandatory fees; therefore the Grant cannot be greater than tuition and fees.

The deadline for submitting an Application to the Illinois State Scholarship Commission is Feb. 1, 1969.

Dixon said, however, that his spot can be filled by his assistant, Dwight Magalis, who has been with the department for the past four years and has been in on all the discussion about expansion of the department.

"We set up the department so that it would not be dependent on any one individual, Dixon said. "It can function well with the present personnel with either a promotion from within or while a search is going on for my replacement."

She Never Came Home

Redlands, Calif. — Monday, March 18, 1968, began as an ordinary day for Elizabeth Lurene Ernstein when she left home for classes at Moore Junior High School in Redlands, Calif. But this Monday on the 18th of March was not to be an ordinary day.

Elizabeth's school day passed without incident. She attended her last class, then left school at 3:40 p.m. to walk home, a two-mile route through blossoming orange groves. She never arrived home. Somewhere along the lonely street, Elizabeth Ernstein vanished.

There are no clues to her whereabouts, or even to what happened to the 14-year-old girl, other than a report from a Redlands businessman who was driving through the area. He thought he saw a girl resembling Elizabeth walking toward the corner of the street on which she lived.

To her parents, Norman and Ruth Ernstein, the months of uncertainty and anxiety over their missing daughter "are the deepest anguish a person can go through. It is a shock so deep you become wooden," the mother explained.

The Ernsteins are appealing nationwide for help in locating their daughter. Ernstein, a chemical engineer at Lockheed in Redlands, and his wife, a psychiatric social worker, have posted a $5,000 reward for information that will solve the mystery of their daughter's disappearance. They have vowed: "We will not rest until we know."

Neither parent has rested since that first long night when their young daughter failed to come home. They have tracked miles through orange groves, fields, foothills, and canyons in and around the Redlands area. They have followed every lead, no matter how slight, in the search for Elizabeth.

pay an increase of $24.64 annually.

The proposed new school will be built on a 52-acre site recently acquired on Rte. 173 west of the Village of Antioch.

The new building will have 26 classrooms, including: arts and crafts, home economics, shop, science, science laboratory, and an audio-visual room.

There will also be a library resource center, band room, vocal music room, kitchen, multi-purpose cafeteria, gymnasium, nurses' room and administration area. The board said that six of the classrooms may be left unfinished at this time.

The proposed school will accommodate over 750 upper grade students. Most of the pupils attending the new school will be provided bus transportation.

The board pointed out that passage of the bond issue would prevent the possibility of overcrowding, substandard classrooms, double shifts and the like.

At the present time the board is renting outside facilities to accommodate 172 kindergarten and first grade children.

The upper grade building will provide for facilities for all of the 6th, 7th and 8th graders.

There will be only one polling place for the election and that will be in the Antioch Grade School gymnasium.

Polls will be open from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

up now. The new swimming pool dealer is then told he must buy at least six swimming pool kits, priced at $2,000 each. If he can't raise $12,000, the promoters settle for advance deposits of $500 a pool.

However, the franchise holder is faced with COD charges for the full amount when the kits arrive. But, the swimming pool building boom passes the new dealer by. There is no advertising for Bermuda Pools, the local families that had ordered pools never materialize. The franchisee is stuck with lots of vinyl sheeting for lining pools, filter equipment, and a big debt.

How can a small investor tell if a business opportunity scheme is legitimate? Chief Montague recommends that one:

—Be wary if the promoters are more interested in selling distributorships than they are a product or service consumers need.

—As those selling vending machine routes or franchises for the names and addresses of those making the "fabulous profits." Ask to see their business records, and interview those actually operating a franchise.

—Check the company with your Better Business Bureau.

—Be skeptical of promotions involving new products or fads.

Montague warns that before "one plunges into a 'fabulous' business opportunity he stop and think how really hard he worked for his savings."

the Christmas gift a woman never forgets, a wonderful electric dishwasher

A wife likes pretty, personal gifts at Christmas. But she loves practical ones, too. And probably the most wanted practical gift of all is an electric dishwasher. Nothing else she can own saves her so many endless hours of drudgery. Come to think of it, how could a gift be more personal, or look prettier to her?

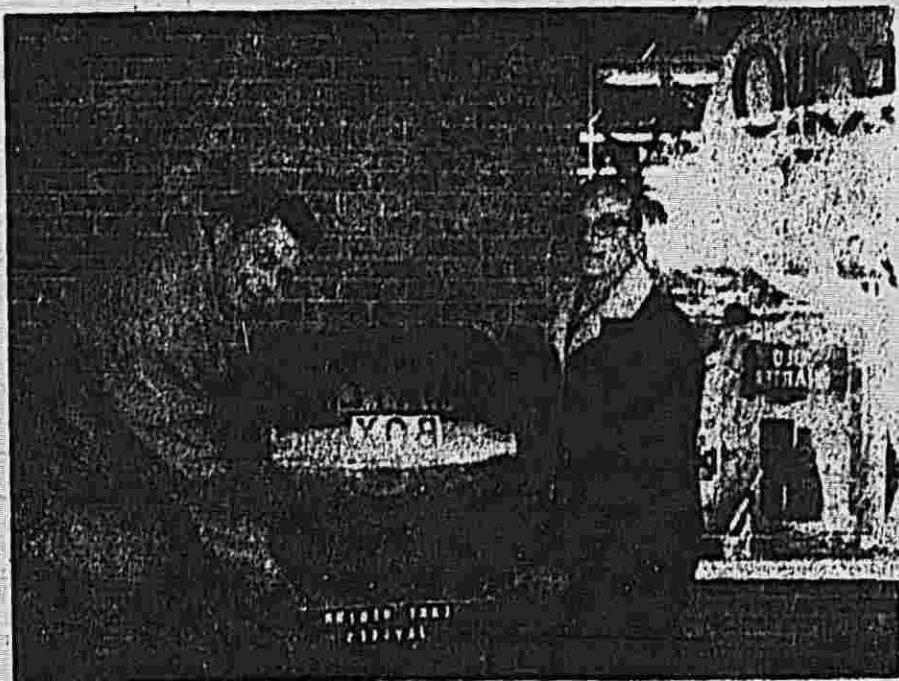

With just a flick of a switch a dishwasher washes, rinses, and dries... all automatically. Glasses, dishes, and flatware come out sparkling, without water spots or towel streaks. Everything is washed and rinsed in water hotter than hands... even gloved hands... can stand. Then it's dried in pure, clean, electrically heated air that's far more sanitary than any dish towel.

You can now get a portable dishwasher, if you like, that does every bit as good a job. Portables need no plumbing connections, and they can be permanently installed in a new kitchen later.

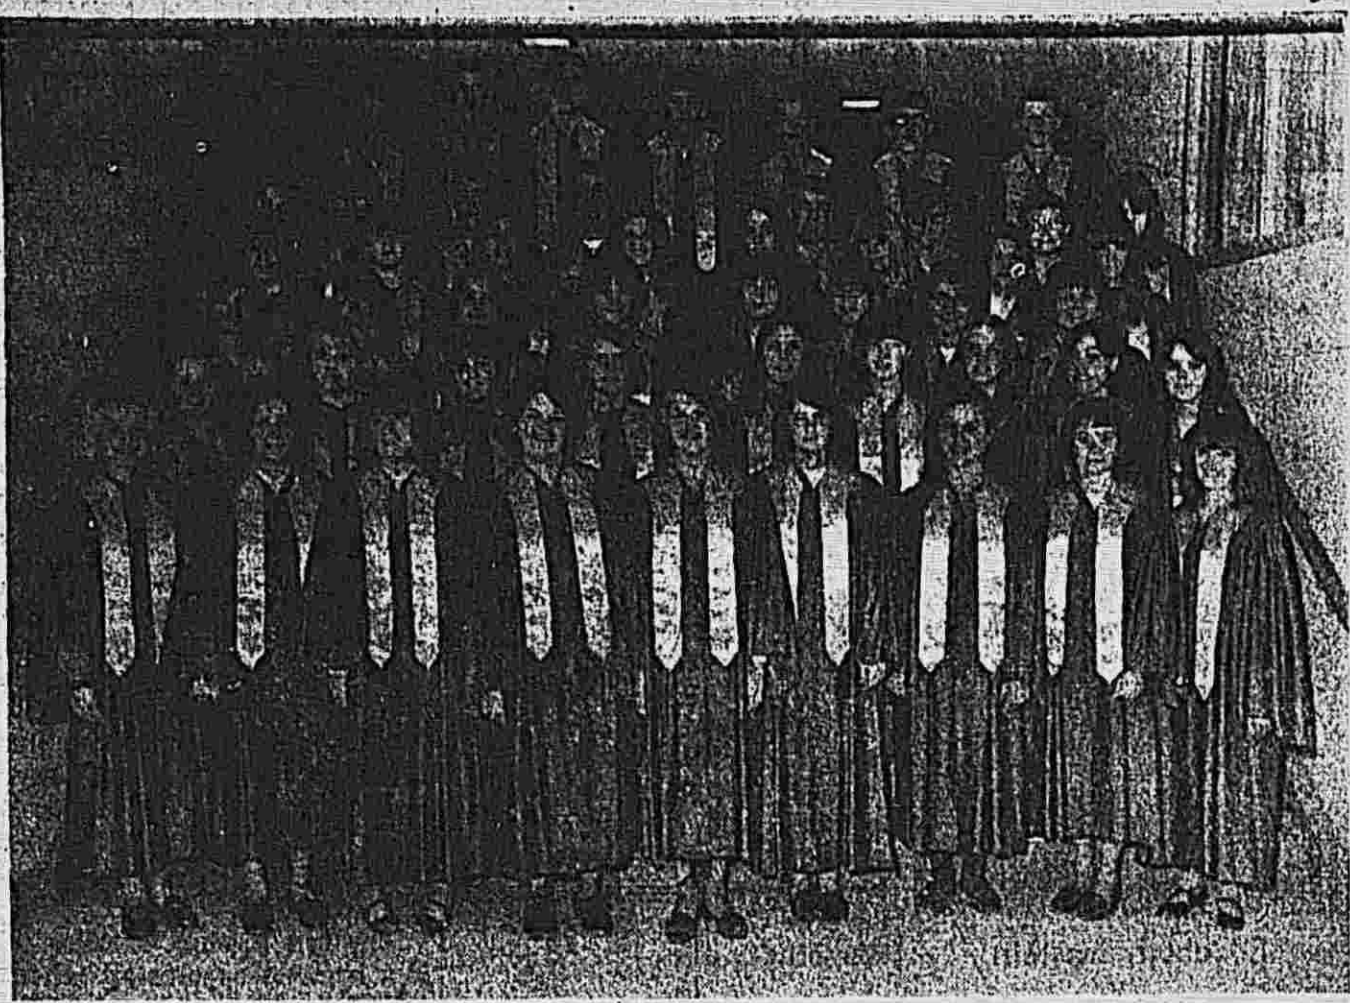

You'll be surprised how little it costs to give your wife the happiness that comes with a new electric dishwasher. See the built-in and portable models at your electric appliance dealer's now. And a Merry Christmas to you both.

Mrs. Deutsh Named March Chairman

Mrs. Arthur Deutsh, 7827 Westwood Place, Grandwood Park, has been named Area Chairman of the annual "53-Minute March" on cerebral palsy according to Arthur Rubloff, chairman of the Board of United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Chicago.

The "March", which will take place on Sunday, Jan. 12, 1968, is so named because a child is born with cerebral palsy every 53 minutes.

There are more than 24,000 children and adults with this crippling condition in the Greater Chicago area.

Mrs. Deutsh, in accepting the chairmanship, said that the funds collected on the "March" support the Agency's Developmental Center for severely handicapped children, family counseling services, five summer day camps for children, an adult residential camp and four adult activity groups, as well as extensive research and educational programs.

She went on to say that cerebral palsy, which is caused by injury to the part of the brain which controls motion, can't be cured at this time and is a lifetime condition which may require a lifetime of services.

She said, "although it can't be cured, it can be helped. A great deal can be done to alleviate the problems of those afflicted, and their families, through early diagnosis, counseling, treatment and training. We can help the whole family when we support the United Cerebral Palsy programs and I'm confident that our community, which has responded generously in the past, will do so again so that United Cerebral Palsy can continue to provide these services and support research to find the way toward prevention." Cerebral palsy is still the country's number onecrippler of children.

A goal of $500,000 has been set for Cook, Lake, DuPage and Kane counties, the area served by United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Chicago.

Illinois has 18,914 manufacturers and 193,000 non-manufacturing business firms.

Lake Forest Girl Scouts show Christmas stockings they are making for needy servicemen's children.

Mrs. Gordon Juhl, seated, and Mrs. William Harlan, program co-chairman, discuss friendship boxes for South Vietnamese children.

Red Cross Youth Program Developing In County

A Red Cross Youth Program is currently being developed in cooperation with various local schools and scout troops. Co-chairmen of the Lake County program are Mrs. Gordon Juhl and Mrs. William Harlan, both of Lake Bluff.

The purpose of the program is to serve the community, nation, and the world. Last summer, various Lake County high school students volunteered one day a week working at Downey Veterans Hospital in Great Lakes.

By assisting in the pharmacy, office, lab, and library, they freed the medical staff for more specialized work with the patients. Recently, a pilot program was started extending this summer project to after school volunteer work. Students from a school go in a group and work one day a week from 4:30 to 7:00 p.m. The hospital provides transportation and dinner for the volunteers.

Another summer project was "Horizons - Unlimited," where volunteers acted as friends to visually handicapped (partially or totally blind) children and teenagers. It was so successful that it is hoped this program can also be expanded.

School home economics groups help maintain a Disaster Closet for needy victims of disaster, such as the tornado in Lake Zurich, the Chicago riot victims, or residents of a house destroyed by an explosion. The Red Cross furnishes packets to volunteers containing material and patterns to make new clothing for these emergency-type situations.

All over Lake County, girl scout troops have been making Christmas stockings for needy servicemen's children. In Grayslake, a grade school is busy filling Friendship Boxes for South Vietnamese children which are filled with educational, health, and recreational items.

The co-chairmen of the Lake County Red Cross Youth Program are now in the process of contacting schools and scout troops to see how the Youth Program can be incorporated into their work.

Mrs. Juhl said, "Schools or scout troops may take part in whatever phase of the program interests them. With our program, we want to develop the fourth 'R' in boys and girls, responsibility."

Dimes March Chairman Is Mrs. Brendel

Mrs. Theo Brendel, 311 South Thornwood Drive, Lindenhurst, has accepted the Mothers' March Chairmanship for the 1969 Lindenhurst March of Dimes.

The appointment was announced by John S. Dean, general campaign chairman.

As chairman, Mrs. Brendel will recruit a feminine army of marching volunteers to conduct the 1969 door-to-door appeal.

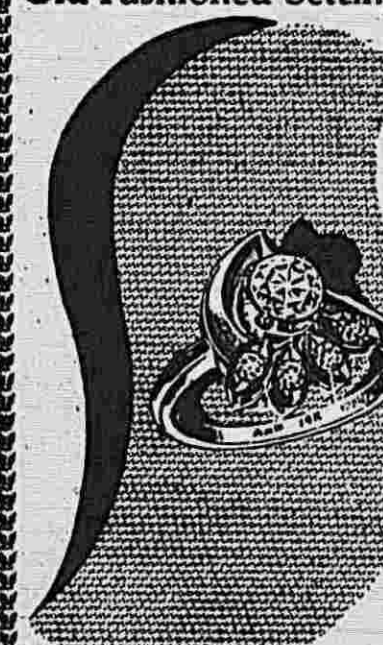

The Mothers' March on Birth Defects will take place Jan. 28 as a climax to the month-long drive for funds to prevent more than 1,000 types of birth defects that strike more than 250,000 newborns each year.

"Thanks to March of Dimes' research, today, 80 per cent of all birth defects can be treated and often completely corrected," declared Mrs. Brendel.

"That's why the March of Dimes has established a national chain of 100 Treatment Centers, like the Chicago-area center at Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital. Funds must be made available to keep the doors of these centers open."

Sequoits Take Opener 59-51

Antioch High School's Sequoits opened their conference season with a win over Warren last Friday.

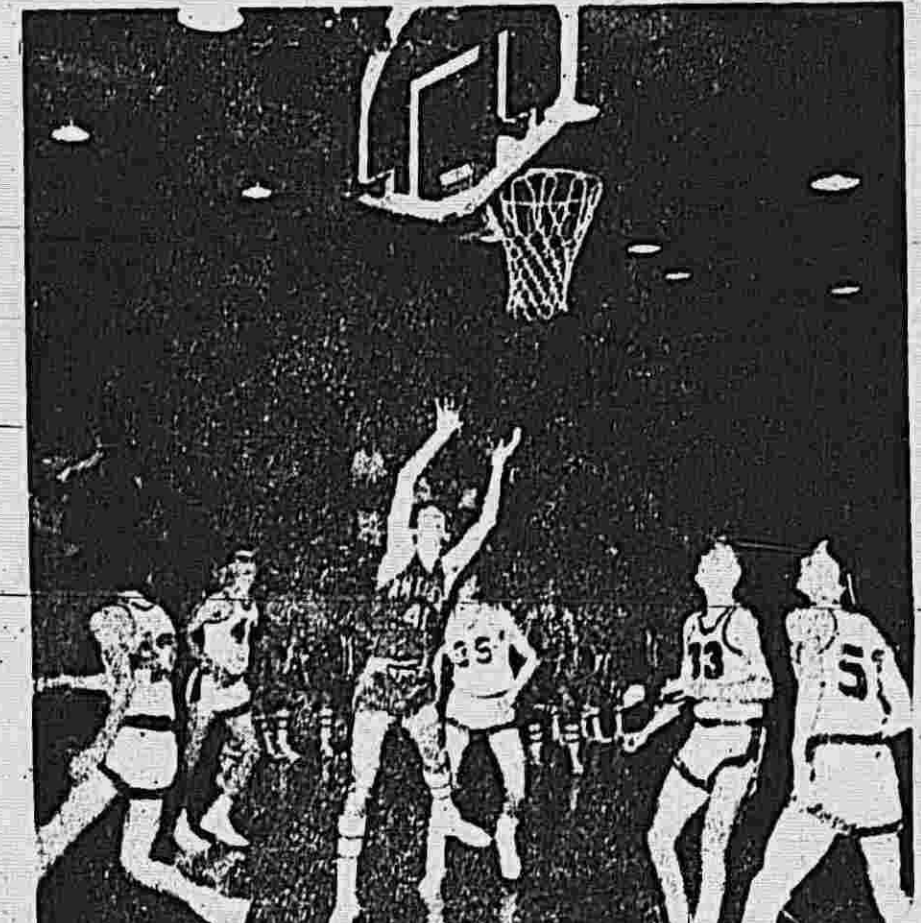

The score was 59-51. The win was the fourth of the season for Roger Andrews' eagles against only one loss.

The game did not begin as if the Sequoits would win as Warren quickly took a four point lead. However, Antioch put on a spurt and took a 6 point lead which was cut to 5 points at the end of the first quarter. Dave Camp scored 6 points and Rod Boswell netted 8 in the opening stanza. Six of Boswell's points were free throws.

The second quarter was fairly even, ending with Antioch leading 29-26. In this period, too, the Sequoits scored well from the charity stripe as they hit 7 of 9 free throws. It was lucky they did shoot well from the line since they came only 2 of 15 shots from the field.

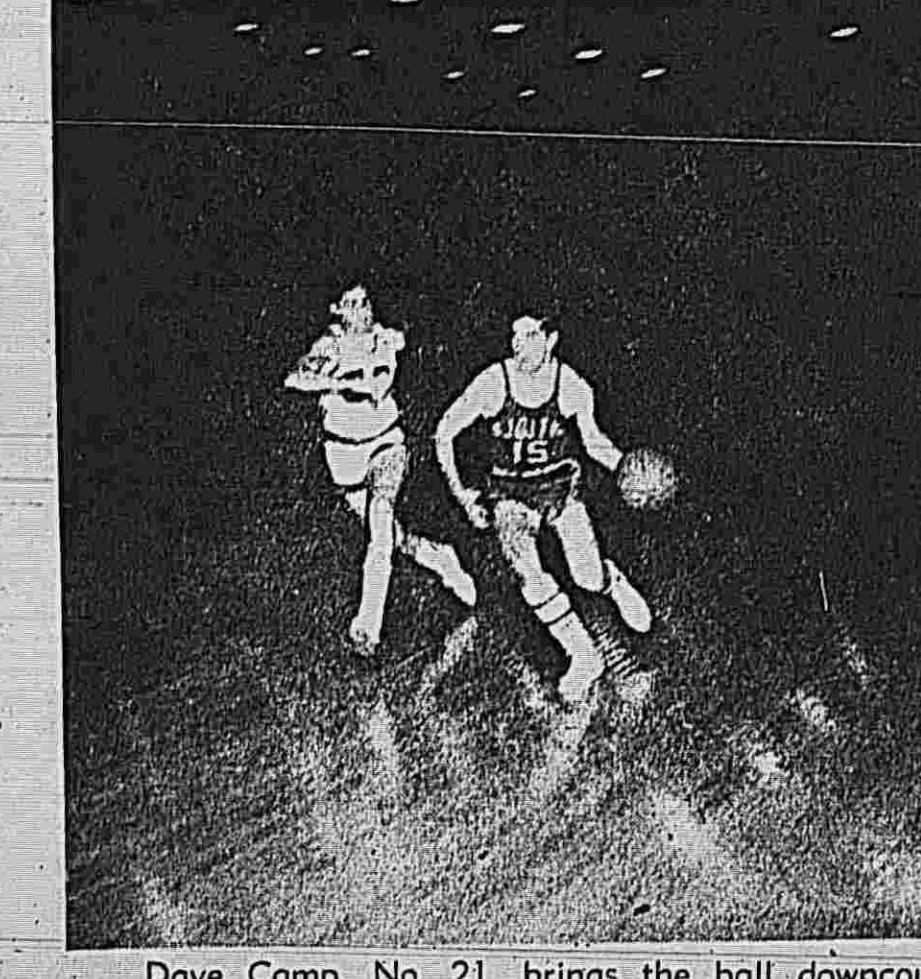

The final bulge of 8 points was helped along in the third quarter as Keith Bolton hit 5 points to pace Antioch to a 17-12 advantage over the Blue Devils. The fourth quarter was a stalemate, 13 points each. The score could have been more widespread but Steve Owens, No. 41, is surrounded as he goes up for a basket in the Sequoits game against Warren.

Keith Bolton, No. 31, cans a two-pointer as he goes up high to score against Warren which Antioch defeated in its conference opener.

Dave Camp, No. 21, brings the ball downcourt, closely guarded by a Warren player.

the Sequoits reserves missed 10 of 13 free throws in the quarter.

The game totals indicate the tagginess of the play as 48 fouls were called by the officials. Warren was guilty of 29 personals. The Sequoits attempted 42 free throws but were able to convert only half of them. Warren also made 29 free throws while missing 11.

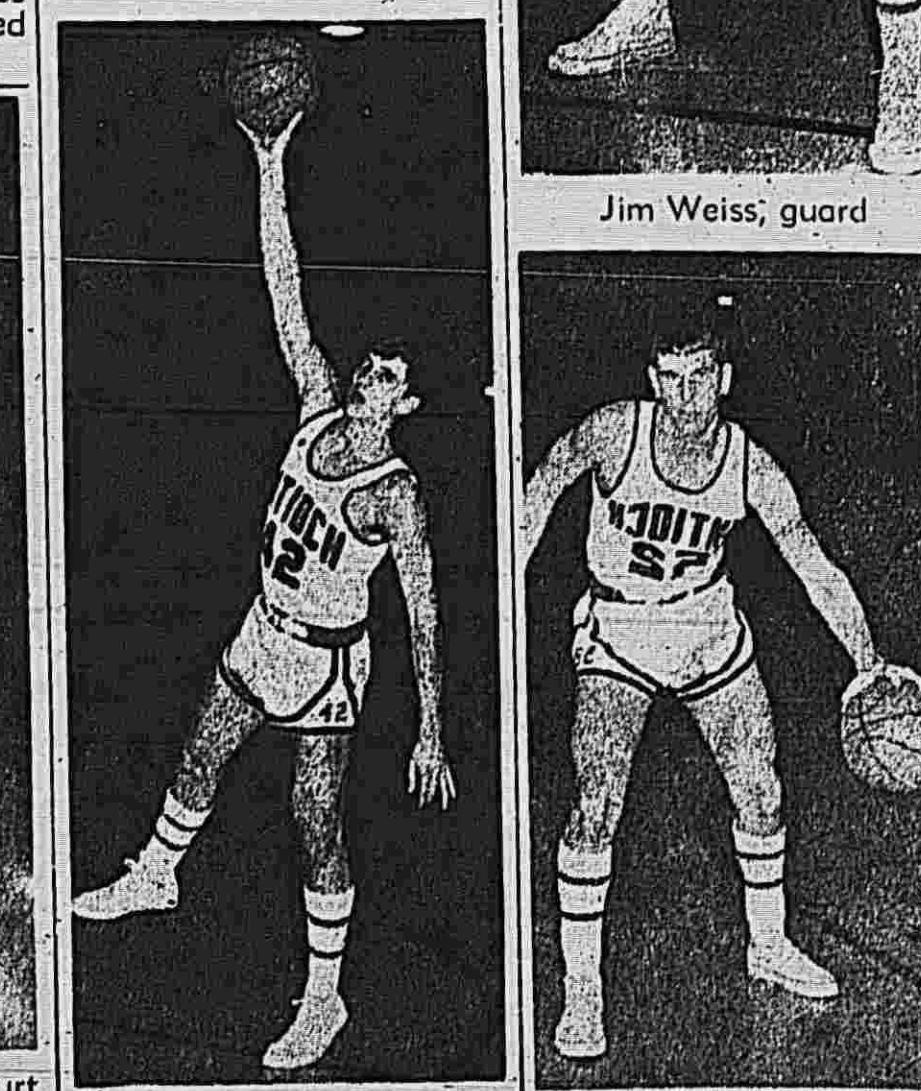

High scorers for Antioch were Dave Camp and Rod Boswell with 16 points each. Bolton added 13. Warren was led by Bruce Robbins and Ted Werenski with 9 points each. Boswell was also the leading rebounder with 17, followed by Bolton with 11 and Steve Owens with 10.

Coach Andrews had mixed feelings about the game. "I thought our defense was good but offensively our shooting was poor. We shot only 32 per cent from the field and 50 per cent from the free throw line. This is substantially below our average so far this year. But it was good to begin the conference race with a win, especially since Warren was picked by many coaches as one of the top teams in the conference."

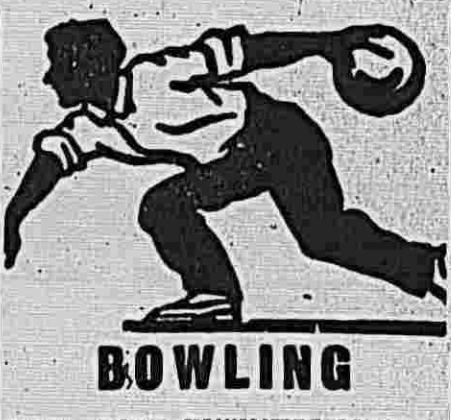

Andrews had a cautious preview of the coming weekend. "This is a real big week for us. We play Round Lake Friday and Lake Forest Saturday. If we can win these two games, we'll be in great position in the conference race. It'll really get us off on the right foot on the way to the conference championship."

"Also would like to give Dave Camp credit for a very good defensive job on holding Doug Zait to only 2 baskets, the improved rebounding of Steve Owens and the over-all general good play of Jerry Martin," stated Coach Andrews.

Revenues Up, Earnings Decline

"Revenues up, taxes up, earnings down." This is the gist of the story being told shareholders of Northern Illinois Gas Company. In a quarterly report covering the 12-month period ended September 30, NI-Gas chairman and president Marvin Chandler said that despite record revenues of $253 million—an increase of 9% over those of a year ago—consolidated earnings dropped to $2.27 a share from $2.46.

Chandler explained that the decrease in earnings reflected the 10% federal surtax (about 20 cents a share) and three per cent warmer weather than a year ago (about 10 cents a share).

"Rate reductions, and higher costs of operating the business," Chandler said, "absorbed the increased utility revenues. However, an increase in other income of .11 cents a share, resulting mainly from nonrecurring factors affecting two of the company's subsidiaries, NI-Gas Supply and Apple River Chemical, reduced the decline in earnings per share to the 19 cents reported. The latter subsidiary continues to suffer from severely depressed prices in the entire ammonia industry resulting from overcapacity."

Chandler continued: "Because so much of our business is done in the winter, our earnings generally do not show much change for the 12-month periods ending through the summer and fall. In recent years, we have tended to show a slight improvement in December. Barring abnormal weather effects, this could well prove to be the case in 1968."

Chandler reported that Apple River has agreed in principle to sell a substantial part of its ammonia output over the next two years to St. Paul Ammonia Products, Inc. "While this agreement together with some plant modifications to improve efficiency, will not reduce the losses from operations substantially," he said, "it is expected to give the ammonia operation a needed elemen of stability for the next two years." Shareholders were assured that, in the meantime, longer range solutions to Apple River's problems will continue to be explored.

NI-Gas' chief executive officer also reported that larger purchases of pipeline gas, coupled with increased withdrawals from its own and leased underground storage areas, will enable the company to provide a maximum of almost 2.8 billion cubic feet of gas per day this winter. This is sufficient to meet all customers' demands, even on the coldest days.

Courtesy Can Start Chain Reaction

"Did you ever notice how a courteous act on the part of a driver or pedestrian starts a chain reaction?" Jerry Klebe, Executive Director of the Lake County Safety Commission asked today.

Courtesy towards others almost always starts a chain reaction, he pointed out. Courtesy of driver A to driver B may be extended next time to driver C by driver B, who continues the reaction.

"Courtesy on the street or highway, of course, is only good manners in traffic," Klebe said today. "When a person is behind the wheel of his car, he should become accustomed to conveying each expression of courtesy while driving that he would if he were at a social gathering."

Klebe explained that, when approaching an intersection, the courteous driver grants the right of way to the person on the right. He pointed out that drivers never have the right of way. It is always given. He suggested that, if someone appears to be taking advantage of you, let him go first. Above all, hold your temper, stay polite.

He also suggested that drivers be courteous to pedestrians and always allow them the right of way, particularly at crosswalks.

On the highway, he suggested, drivers should be considerate of all other vehicles they meet by dimming their head lamps at night, not following too closely, granting right of way and maintaining constant speed when being passed—among other driving courtesies.

Edison Announces New Unit

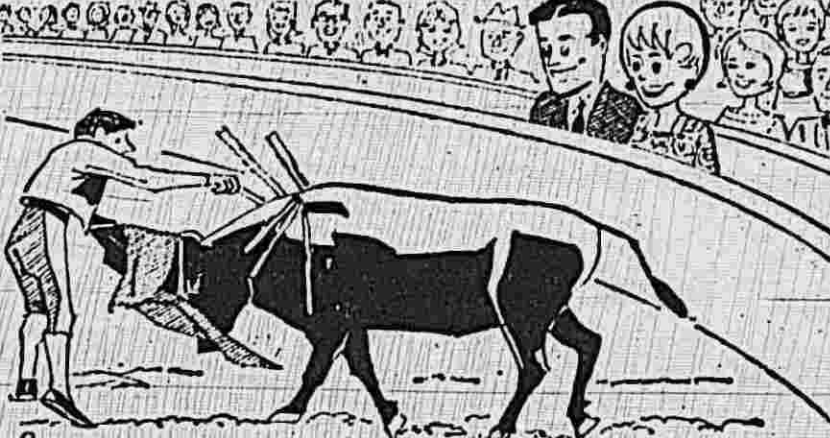

Commonwealth Edison Company has announced that it will install an 800,000-kilowatt generating unit at the company's Powerton station near Pekin.

J. Harris Ward, Commonwealth Edison chairman, said the previously authorized coal-fired unit will be constructed for service by the summer of 1972 at a cost exceeding $100 million.

"The new unit will provide additional capacity to meet our customers' electric power requirements which are growing at a faster rate than previously anticipated," Ward said. "Projecting the build-up of future peak loads at an average rate of more than 8 per cent a year, we estimate the demand for Edison power will exceed 12 million kilowatts in 1972. The Powerton addition will reinforce our capability to serve this load with adequate reserve margins."
